Sad, but a beautiful tribute. Family are in my prayers.

Rick Santana - June 06, 2016 at 08:54 PM

I'm sorry for your loss your family are in my prayers this was a beautiful tribute.

Tracy Gil Lozano - June 06, 2016 at 10:04 PM

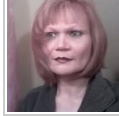

Where were u when this happen

john smith - June 06, 2016 at 10:24 PM

A very sad and tragic death for these two angels my prayers are with their family

Robert Hernandez - June 06, 2016 at 11:13 PM

No need to be rude the family is going through enough sadness. For people to be so rude I'm sure they feel guilty enough on their own. I as a latin mother can understand cause latin kids always have a mind of their own n no matter how much we try to keep them safe they always do something to get in trouble. So no one should be making rude comments cause it could happen to anyone. My prayers are with the family.

Lisa Ramos - June 06, 2016 at 11:17 PM

My prayers are with the family, heaven has gained two angels

Claudia Arellano - June 07, 2016 at 10:04 AM

“ Trying to think of the right words to say. Please know I will not ever forget Aby; she was a friend to all and always a huge help to me in the classroom. It was a joy to get to work with her and watch her blossom in 5th grade at Sanchez. I didn't know Eder as well, but as everyone has mentioned, I'll never forget his smile or his huge personality. Sending many prayers to family and friends for peace and healing in the days, weeks, and months ahead.
The picture was taken at the beginning of 5th grade.

“ I remember how anytime I would get to the bus stop before Abby she would be surprised. I was always late to the bus. I told her next year I would be better. She counted on that. When we walked home together, that's when Eder would peer around the corner inside the house. He would make a few jokes and then go back inside. I have dreams of Abby. It always ends with me hugging her. She was one of my very best friends. I didn't want to go to the wake or the funeral because I was shaking and I was about to cry just thinking of going. I didn't really know Eder very well and he didn't really know me. But he still deserves a great RIP from me. And as for Abby, I want to hear her voice one last time. I know I can't but that was always the light of my day, listening to her talking to me. RIP Abby & Eder Who Are Gone But Never Forgotten 5-30-16

“ I do not personally know these children very well, but my daughter really liked Abigail. They were in choir together and no matter my daughters disability, she was always friendly to her. I can't imagine the great loss you have endured and you and your family will for always be in my prayers. Rest in peace sweet children

“ I was Eder's 1st grade teacher at Woodland. He was always curious about everything and liked to be a helper. He also was a spirited boy...full of energy! But, it was hard to get mad at Eder because of that smile of his! He'd look up at me with those beautiful eyes and smile, and I couldn't help but smile back! I remember his sister too. She was ALWAYS looking out for Eder...apparently up until the very end Too! I remember her that Abigail would come and pick up Eder at the end of the day and would ask what his homework was and how his day went. Two sweet souls taken way too soon! My heart breaks for your family! You have been in my thoughts and prayers since I first heard about this tragedy and you will continue to be for a long time! If you need anything, let us at Woodland know...once you are a part of the Woodland family, you are ALWAYS a part of our family!
