“ I had the pleasure and honor of caring for Ms.Amy at Silvercross Hospital. She gave me the biggest hug before she left and it was the warmest! She didn't have a audible voice you could hear but a voice that was felt! I was fortunate to be able to read lips and we chatted many days while she was on our unit. Before I even told my family she promised she was the best at keeping a secret lol She was the first person I shared the news of me getting accepted into nursing school and she was sooo happy she told me I would be great and do great and I believe her. Her birthday is a day before mine and now I will carry her as a angel with me thru school. She truly inspired me and I am blessed to have met her. -Lexi
