“ Dang it Rob you changed your number and couldn't catch ya at Dellwood Tire since you retired from there been searching for you on Facebook Google and social media for years couldn't find a way to get back a hold of ya again and Did a search June 28, 2024 on my way up north to visit family etc. and come across this obituary first thing on Google search was in shock like no way this can't be right poor Vanessa and his kids and family this truly sucks I worked with him for years at Dellwood Tire a Wonderful soul down to earth person and a great friend would give ya his shirt off his own back and do without to help ya out with whatever u needed if he liked ya lol. It's a big loss for the world he would always brighten your day when you were having a crap day. Was hoping so much to see him and BS in the backyard cooking on the grill drinking a beer like we use to do. I'm sorry Vanessa and family members shouldn't of been his time will be so missed. Hold down the fort bro will be there one of these days myself and we will celebrate bigger than we did in the backyard cookouts.
