“ I was always happy to talk to Serhii, since I first met him I knew he was a good guy, and to no surprise, he was a great co-worker, I was happy to teach him and learn with him about his new job position and was excited to have him back with us, I refused to believe the heartbreaking news. It's so sad that he had to go. Rest in peace Sergio.

lagrimas, como aquel que no tiene esperanzas.
No he muerto, aunque mi cuerpo no esté, mi presencia se hará sentir
Seré el silencio de nuestro hogar que tanto compartimos, será la brisa que besará sus rostros, será un recuerdo dulce que asista a su memoria, será una página bonita de su historia.

A Tribute to Serhii: A Friendship Beyond Borders

In Loving Memory of Serhii

In the corridors of our daily lives, we occasionally cross paths with souls who leave indelible marks on our hearts. Serhii was one such extraordinary soul, whose memory I hold dear, a beacon of friendship and kindness in a world that often feels too vast and impersonal.

I met Serhii when he joined our department, a time that now seems both a moment and a lifetime ago. Our camaraderie was born out of curiosity about our distinct origins, him from Ukraine and myself from Ghana. Amidst the turmoil of war in his homeland, we found a common ground in our eagerness to learn about each other's worlds. It was a friendship that blossomed not just from shared interests but from shared humanity.

At work, Serhii was the embodiment of support and generosity. He had an innate sense to reach out his hand whenever he noticed a struggle, making the burdens of production lighter for me. His willingness to help was not just an act of kindness but a testament to his character, always placing others before himself.

Our days were filled with laughter, a testament to the joy we found in each other's company. Parking side by side each morning, our routine was more than just a habit; it was a cherished ritual. Walking in and out of the building together, ending our day with a handshake or a hug, and sometimes ride together until we reached his junction. These moments, seemingly mundane, are now treasures I hold close to my heart.

We shared countless conversations, some lighthearted, others deep and without answers. Through it all, Serhii was a constant source of strength and happiness. Despite his health battles, he never let on the weight of his struggles in our last conversations. I wonder now if he was shielding me from worry or if fate had its own plan, sparing him from life's relentless stresses.

The day dawned like any other, with expectations of shared moments and laughter. Yet, the absence of his familiar smile and the silence of his phone shattered the normalcy I had come to cherish. The news of his passing was a blow that gripped and shattered not just me but all who had the privilege of knowing him at work.

Serhii, your departure has left a void that words cannot fill. The memories of our friendship, the laughter we shared, and the moments we cherished, however, continue to shine brightly. In your honor, I pledge to live with the same kindness and warmth you showed to everyone around you. You taught me that true friendship knows no borders, and for that, I am eternally grateful.

As I continue my journey, I carry with me the lessons of compassion and camaraderie you exemplified. Your spirit lives on in the hearts of those you touched, a lasting tribute to a life beautifully lived.

Farewell, my friend, until we meet again. Your memory will forever be a guiding light, a reminder of the beauty of friendship and the impact of kindness.

With deepest affection and remembrance,
