“ Today, I began to realize that I had not had a phone call from my first cousin, William, in some time. I did a search on the web for a phone number and what I found was a notice that William had died in May of this year. Bill was so good about keeping me and others relatives up to date on our first cousins in the Illinois area. I have not seen him since we abandoned the Nolan reunions in Pontiac some years ago. God Bless my cousin and may he soon be with the Lord and his parents who are unquestioningly saints now.
